

Art in the Texas State Parks

A series of workshops to promote arts activities in state parks by and for visitors with and without disabilities

TITLE: When Nature Sings

CLASS OFFERED:

Saturday, January 31, 2015 2-4 pm
Saturday, February 7, 2015 2-4 pm
Saturday, February 21, 2015 2-4 pm

LOCATION: McKinney Falls State Park
5808 McKinney Falls Parkway
Austin, TX 78744
In the Amphitheater

FEE: Workshop is free with park entrance
No registration required

INSTRUCTOR: Tekina-eirú Maynard

DESCRIPTION: Connect with nature in this interactive workshop! Those connected to an indigenous culture know that – everyday-nature communicates with humanity through expressive performances that bring meaning to life. In this workshop participants will learn about Taino spirituality through inspirational anecdotes, role playing and music making featuring the live native flute. Led by Tekina-eirú, a proud blood descendent of the native Tainos of Puerto Rico.

AUDIENCE: Open to children and adults